

Jaduka's Click & Connect - Make it Easy to Make Your Phone Ring

By: Ramon Ray

For some of you, your phone ringing is a pain. But there's a LOT of you whose business success is determined by your phone ringing or not. If you sell real estate or are a travel agent, often times your phone ringing means someone is either closer to making a sale or wants to start a sale.

If you have dipped your toes into the sea of online marketing (email, web site, etc) then the challenge is how to get a customer reply - beyond just having an email reply.

In many cases the prospective customer might want to call you - right now. Jaduka has a nifty solution.

Their click-and-connect service, lets those receiving an email from you press a button on your web site or within an email you send them, input their telephone number and "click-and-connect" connects them to you.

At $3.40 per hour it's low cost enough that it's worth a try - even better you get 60 minutes for free.